SBBM GOES GREEN WITH CUTTING EDGE COMMERCIAL CLEANING PRODUCTS

Company to service all commercial and professional accounts with new hydrogen peroxide-based cleaning solutions for improved cleaning and reduced toxicity

Santa Barbara, CA – September 1, 2009 – SBBM – Santa Barbara Building Maintenance, the largest locally owned, non-franchised commercial cleaning company in Santa Barbara County, today announced that it has converted all commercial and industrial accounts to EnvirOx cleaning products. This announcement underscores SBBM's innovative leadership in the local commercial cleaning industry.

EnvirOx has transformed the cleaning industry by pioneering the development and popularization of hydrogen peroxide-based cleaners. In 2003, EnvirOx's H2Orange2 commercial cleaning agent became the first hydrogen peroxide-based multi-purpose cleaner to obtain "Green Seal" certification, the leading certification standards organization for environmentally friendly products.

EnvirOx cleaning products eliminate the need for traditional, higher toxicity ingredients such as alcohols, glycol ethers, acid, caustics, amines, ammonia, bleach, phosphates, detergents, and quaternary ammonia compounds. Instead, the company has one, low toxicity product that performs effectively in all the general janitorial cleaning tasks at various dilution rates.

"SBBM is very pleased to offer EnvirOx cleaning products to our professional, commercial and industrial customers," said Steve Gowdy, President of SBBM. "EnvirOx offers the leading environmentally-friendly cleaning products, which provide improved performance with reduced toxicity. EnvirOx products have been approved for use in schools and healthcare facilities nationwide, and we're proud to be the first significant commercial cleaning company in Santa Barbara to offer these."
